THE WORLD'S BIGGEST TRAVEL SOURCE MARKET IS BACK IN 2023!

Just minutes after the relaxation of travel restrictions announced for January 8, online searches for overseas travel in China skyrocketed, as did bookings in the days that followed, underscoring the huge pent-up demand in the world's largest travel market.

Meanwhile, China's top travel agents see a swift recovery possible just under one year.

Over 65% of buyers participating in the most recent ITB China Travel Trends report are confident that the Chinese outbound travel market is capable of bouncing back within a year, among which 32% felt that it could recover in just six months.

HIGH DEMAND FOR INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL RESOURCES

"Over the last three years, Trip.com Group has adhered to our 'local focus, global vision' strategy, and expanded our globalisation efforts. We are looking forward to the return of ITB China, and hope to meet with our global partners this September in Shanghai to summarise the experience of the Chinese consumer and explore broader cooperation."

- Jane Sun, CEO of Trip.com Group

"The new measures accelerated the recovery of the travel market in China, there is no doubt that travel demand will rebound. We need to plan ahead, update the contacts and rebuild the partnerships with global travel suppliers quickly. We are looking forward to establishing more overseas cooperation and explore more diversified, new, and unique travel products at this year's ITB China"

- Zhang Lei, Senior Vice President of Utour Group Co.,Ltd

"CITS will restart business cooperation with overseas partners quickly, and launch new outbound travel products with unique experience and different cultures, to help the development and recovery of the travel industry."

- Zhang KeXiong, Assistant General Manager

"Travel demand grew after the news was released, and people's confidence in travel will also increase quickly. The travel demands of Chinese travelers will return step by step, just like the other overseas markets in 2022. The future is here, let's get going!"

- Liu Yongsheng, Vice President of CYTS Aoyou International Travel
